What is CPANB?

The Crime Prevention Association of New Brunswick, an idea that originated with the New Brunswick Police Commission in 1987, was incorporated as a non-profit organization in October 1994. CPANB has grown to include members from all ages and sectors such as teachers, health promoters, community leaders, social development practitioners, police officers, social workers, lawyers and correctional officers who advocate and promote social development and personal safety for all New Brunswickers. CPANB is a member of New Brunswick's Roundtable on Crime and Public Safety which supports the Provincial Crime Prevention Strategy.

Vision | help mobilize communities, promote effective crime prevention strategies, encourage collaboration, support Crime Prevention through social development, and reduce crime opportunities through public awareness and education.

What's Happening Nationally?

Get prepared for Back to School Safety!

As school doors open, traffic gets a little heavier on our streets. People are back from holidays, school buses and public transit are on regular routes, and more people are walking, cycling or driving to school. To help with the transition and share the roads safely, here are some safety tips:

- Observe School Zone Speeds
- Obey the Crossing Guard
- Watch for Children
- Never pass a school bus when the signal lights are flashing—as children are often crossing the road at that time, and drive slowly as a general precaution.

This safety tip was prepared by Public Safety Canada in collaboration with the Canada Safety Council. Click here for more information.

What's Happening Provincially?

Guns and Gang Violence Action Fund

The provincial government announced the details of New Brunswick's Gun and Gang Violence Action Fund. This project is made possible through funding from the federal government, which has allocated more than $2.7 million over five years through its Initiative to Take Action Against Gun and Gang Violence.

"We are taking action to protect families and communities," said Public Safety Minister Carl Urquhart. "We are doing that by complementing the Outlaw Motorcycle Gang Strategy. Using the evidence that we collect, a strategic plan will be implemented that will aim to address the underlying reasons for gang violence."

The provincial government's five-year plan on gun and gang violence complements its Crime Prevention and Reduction Strategy and Outlaw Motorcycle Gang Strategy. It will focus on better understanding the nature of gun and gang violence in New Brunswick, and, through collaboration with partners and stakeholders, an evidence-based strategic plan will be developed. The plan will aim to address existing, emerging and underlying gun and gang violence and related issues through knowledge development, prevention, intervention and suppression activities.

When to call 911?

Emergency Situations:

- When someone's life is in danger of there is an immediate threat
- When a crime is in progress
- When a serious crime has just occurred and the suspect may not be far or may return
- When there is a good chance of arresting a suspect, or preventing the development of a serious crime

When making a 911 call:

- Remain calm and stay on the phone until you are told to hang up
- Briefly state the reason for the call (e.g., "I want to report a break and enter in progress")
- Let the operator control the conversation. The questions are important to assist the officers who will be attending.

Be prepared to answer:

- Location of the emergency—including street name, building number, direction of travel.
- Personal information—name, date of birth, address and phone number. Date of birth helps police to differentiate between people with the same name and assist in combating identity theft.
